First Overland Mushers To Stake Oil Claims At Fort Norman Fought Hard Trails, Hunger And Cold

The Pinky party, forced to chop their way through ice hummocks on the Mackenzie river, finally reached their objective, With Starving Dogs, After a Momentous Journey—A Story That Will Live

George Pinky, who headed the overland rush to the oil well at Fort Norman, in company with his brother and three companions, has reached Edmonton from his far north via McMurray. Due to the fact that the winding up of his year's trading operations took him to Fort Resolution for some time, the traveler came "in" somewhat later than the others who made the same journey, but the distinction of being the first to reach the oil well from the south rests with the Pinky party.

Here is the story of the long trek to the far north as detailed to The Bulletin by the Pinky party:

George Pinky, for trader, of Fort Resolution, built expeditions to the Mackenzie river, with the Indians at the post on the Great Slave lake, determined to reach his fortune at the northern oil well. He, and while the others were busy with the Indians with the Indians at the same time laying plans for the long hike to the north. It was not until December, however, that the party came from the "outside" to start their journey, giving particulars of the war in which the animals could survive their climate.

Early in December his brother William, and his brother-in-law, Daniel, Frank Herring and R. N. O'Brien, arrived at Resolution, and the teams and preparation were made for a start to the north. The party consisted of George Pinky, his brother William, and his brother-in-law, Daniel, Frank Herring and R. N. O'Brien, and a number of Indian guides. The party was well equipped with food, clothing, and other necessities. They started on their journey on December 15th, and traveled through the Mackenzie river valley, facing many hardships and dangers. They encountered heavy ice, strong winds, and lack of food. Despite these difficulties, they persevered and finally reached the oil well at Fort Norman on April 21st, 1921.

Left Resolution Dec. 15th. Carrying nothing but blankets and food the party left Fort Resolution on December 15th, and began a trail for the west with snowshoes. The trail was not made, and the party was four feet deep. Before the party could start, the snow was so deep that the party had to dig their way through it. They traveled for several days, facing many hardships. The trail was very difficult, and the party was often forced to dig their way through the snow. They encountered many dangers, including heavy ice, strong winds, and lack of food. Despite these difficulties, they persevered and finally reached the oil well at Fort Norman on April 21st, 1921.

Two days at Simpson. The party arrived at Simpson on December 17th, and stayed for two days. They were well received by the Indian guides, and the party was well equipped with food, clothing, and other necessities. They started on their journey on December 19th, and traveled through the Mackenzie river valley, facing many hardships and dangers. They encountered heavy ice, strong winds, and lack of food. Despite these difficulties, they persevered and finally reached the oil well at Fort Norman on April 21st, 1921.

White Tailed. Much of the time of the party was spent in the White Tailed region. The party was well equipped with food, clothing, and other necessities. They started on their journey on December 19th, and traveled through the Mackenzie river valley, facing many hardships and dangers. They encountered heavy ice, strong winds, and lack of food. Despite these difficulties, they persevered and finally reached the oil well at Fort Norman on April 21st, 1921.

Survival of the River. The following morning a severe snow storm hit the party, and they were forced to stop. The snow was so deep that the party had to dig their way through it. They traveled for several days, facing many hardships. The trail was very difficult, and the party was often forced to dig their way through the snow. They encountered many dangers, including heavy ice, strong winds, and lack of food. Despite these difficulties, they persevered and finally reached the oil well at Fort Norman on April 21st, 1921.

No Decision in Teachers' Dispute After Four-Hour Meeting With Board; Arbitration Asked For

After that took place over the first point mentioned, that of all representatives of the teachers' union, without anything definite being arrived at, until the meeting was adjourned at 11:30. The teachers' union was not going to say all night and do nothing.

Trustee Scott said that he thought the whole was aimed up in the third clause, and suggested that they might pass on that.

Trustee Scott then remarked that he was going to ask the Alliance state further exactly what they wanted. This it could be quickly settled.

Interpretation of Request. The remainder of the Board having interpreted the request, Mr. Scott requested, Miss Crawford, to represent the teachers' union, to present, given notice of meeting, and so on.

See, Mama, There is Your Medicine

"YES, dear, that is the medicine which mama well and I am sure neither of us shall ever forget it."

"Are you going to buy some?"

"No, darling. I do not need any. You know how I sleep now. No terrible headaches, no nervousness any more and we are able to take our nice long walks every day."

"You never used to walk, did you?"

"Not for a long time. My nerves were so bad that I could not do anything, and I am afraid I was often very nervous and irritable with you and daddy, but, thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, that day has gone by and I know what it is to be well and happy."

"Why don't all the sick people use your medicine?"

"Far more of them would if they only knew of it. I would do them. I have told lots of my friends and they nearly all have been benefited just as I was."

FORMER TRIAL HOLGATE CASE IS REVIEWED

and read to him the usual statutory warning or caution. During the trial the courtroom, as on the former occasion, was reserved to the door.

Morning Session.
John Findlay Gibson appeared in the supreme criminal court Wednesday morning to stand his trial for a second time on the charge of breaking and entering. The case is being heard before a new jury, with a new jury and a new lawyer. Mr. Justice Spence presided at the former trial of the accused on the same charge. He is replaced by Mr. Justice Ives, H. H. Purvis, K.C., who defended the accused. Does not appear to argue the case this time and Hugh C. McDonald has taken over the defense. The former jury which returned a verdict of guilty on the evidence, discharging, necessitating a new trial. The new jury consists of E. G. Emery of this city, Chas. Brown and W. H. Reid of Edmonton, D. H. McLean of Manning, and W. Neils of Vermilion.

Review Is Missing.
A missing revolver from the number of exhibits held by the court since the last trial of the accused and the one which bore a number and was most closely identified by Ben Lebowitz the opening of the trial by Crown Prosecutor R. H. Coleman, K.C. The revolver, number 4219, a .25 Colt, was not to be found in the package with the others and in place of a different search by the clerk of the court in every conceivable place. It was not discovered and the trial proceeded without the valuable and important weapon.

Six Revolvers Taken.
Six revolvers are said to have been from the store of Ben Lebowitz on 101st street when the accused and Sidney Rome are alleged to have broken into it. There were all in exact in the former trial. Two of the most material revolvers to the case for the crown bore numbers. One had the number filed off since it was taken from the store and the peculiar circumstance is that the one now missing is the one that could be identified by the number.

E. B. Cogwell, crown prosecutor, apart from making the statement that the missing gun was a most important piece of evidence in the case, made no suggestion as to its disappearance and no recommendation for its recovery was made. The clerk of the court declaring that the revolver was taken up in his desk in the court room since the original trial and he is at a loss to know how it disappeared so mysteriously.

Turns Up In Afternoon.
It was reported at the opening of the afternoon session that the weapon had been found in another desk in the court room over where the clerk had no control.

All the old ground as far as crown evidence is concerned is being covered. Ben Lebowitz, John Gibson, the valet and Constables Little and Jennings testifying as to finding the store broken into.

Jury Retires During Argument.
The defence on the occasion is taking extra precaution regarding the admissibility of the alleged confession.

of the accused and while the evidence of Inspector Piper, Chief Shute and Inspector Shaw was being taken relative to this point the jury was asked to retire. This evidence according to the ruling of Mr. Justice Ives will have to be gone over again before the jury. These witnesses were very positive that the alleged statement of confession was not extracted from the accused by force or threat but made voluntarily.

Holgate May Be Called.
In all probability young Holgate will be put on the stand on this occasion, thus making a difference from the tactics employed in the last trial prior to the adjournment. It may want to call Holgate, your Lordship, said Mr. Macdonald, "and I want to know if the cross-examination of him by the crown will be confined to the present issue."

RAILWAY BOARD HAS LEFT THE CITY

Following the hearing in Edmonton which was concluded without the necessity of an afternoon session, the Board of Railway Commissioners, with traffic experts and the various staff following, left this city for the station Wednesday night over the Canadian National railway. Hearing of arguments for and against Canadian freight reclassification, proposed changes in regard to flag stations, an application of the Alberta department of railways and telephones for special privileges and the complaint of the Swift Current, Saskatchewan, for the raising of charges on coal from the Grand Trunk Pacific mine in the Edmonton district, constituted the entire program before the board.

Grain Trade Inquiry May Take Entire Year

WINNIPEG, April 20.—Six months to one year may be taken up in the inquiry into the grain trade by the newly appointed commission according to Commissioner J. H. Hadam, of Regina, who is here today. The commission is expected to meet here next Monday to undertake organization and plan its work. Mr. Hadam had thought estimates would commence in Manitoba towns with farmers giving evidence.

WORCESTERSHIRE GIVES BALDWIN LARGE MAJORITY

London, April 20.—The by-election accumulated in the county of Worcestershire, by the appointment of Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Unionist, as president of the board of trade, resulted in Mr. Baldwin's re-election to the house of commons. It was announced today, he received 14,577 votes, as against 1,469 for Henry Mills, Laborite.

WEATHER REPEATS ITSELF

Wet and Dry Years Never Come
Alone According to Meteorologists

The Dominion Meteorological office precipitation records of the Edmonton district, show that in the twenty-two years this branch of the government service has been in operation a great variety of wet and dry seasons have been experienced. During the first year, 1898, from which weather records date, the total precipitation was 10.9 inches, of which 5.11 inches fell between April 1 and September 30. This is the driest year recorded. The next year (1899) the total was 20.9 inches, of which 11.9 inches fell between April 1 and Sept. 30. This was the wettest year recorded. The following table shows the precipitation for each year from 1898 to 1920:

1898	10.9	5.11
1899	20.9	11.9
1900	24.81	10.43
1901	27.28	12.91
1902	20.66	10.43
1903	21.05	14.12
1904	18.87	11.71
1905	15.06	10.00
1906	16.62	14.25
1907	17.59	12.14
1908	12.88	10.43
1909	20.66	10.43
1910	21.29	19.42
1911	19.34	16.13
1912	19.34	16.13
1913	19.34	16.13
1914	19.34	16.13
1915	19.34	16.13
1916	19.34	16.13
1917	19.34	16.13
1918	19.34	16.13
1919	19.34	16.13
1920	19.34	16.13

The month of April, 1914, 11.13 inches of rain, which is possibly a record for that month in the district. The records of rainfall in 1914 are not complete, but the total for the year is not recorded. 1903 was the second year in which the total rainfall was over 20 inches. The highest average rainfall during the twenty-two years was 21.05 inches. Wet years apparently never come alone, there being only three in a group. This seems to be the case in all the Canadian weather records at least, if not for the whole world.

Weather reports, not to repeat this year, from year to year, but in series of years. A very heavy rainfall during any summer was never followed by a season of light rainfall. At the time of the month July 23 to August 23, only 7.1 inches of rain fell. The lowest temperature, 23 degrees below zero, was recorded on the highest 47 degrees, a mean temperature of 35 degrees, which is high for Alberta.—E. O'P.

PROF. PITCHER GIVES EVIDENCE ON ALBERTA COAL

Fuel Committee of House of Commons Conducts Inquiry on Coal Situation

Ottawa April 20.—(Canadian Press) Alberta coal was again the subject of a report by the fuel committee of the house of commons, which was held today. The committee, headed by Mr. S. D. Pitcher, of the university of Toronto, and Mr. J. H. Hadam, of Regina, were called to give evidence on the different classes of Alberta coal. The Alberta government, Prof. Pitcher said, were again giving extensive geological survey in the province, which was already being made under the federal government. The federal government had been unable to put in a survey of the coal fields and the provincial authorities had carried it on.

"The idea," he said, "to prevent people rushing into mines where there is no coal."

"There is unfortunately a number of very fine mines," Prof. Pitcher remarked. "But the coal is not good enough for the federal government. It goes into coal mining in Alberta."

He emphasized the importance of the scientific research work carried on with the assistance of the Alberta government.

Contrasting conditions in Alberta mines with those existing in Nova Scotia, Prof. Pitcher said the Alberta mines did not have to do so much pumping of water, but this was made possible by ventilation coils resulting from the use of the steam engine. On the whole, he thought conditions in mining rather better in Nova Scotia than in Alberta.

The formation of the Dominion Coal company combination should have reduced costs of producing coal. "That," he commented, "is one of the main reasons for the situation."

The efficiency of labor in the Alberta mines was increasing. "The coal is being mined more efficiently—five times as much as in Nova Scotia," he said. "The coal is being mined more efficiently—five times as much as in Nova Scotia."

Dr. Cowin (Regina): "Who is getting the benefit of that increased efficiency—the mine operator or the consuming public?"

It goes to Mr. operator," Prof. Pitcher replied, who added that the operator had to look after the increased efficiency during the year.

Questioned by J. C. Dougan (Cape Breton South) as to higher prices being asked for Nova Scotia coal, he said that year that was asked last year. Prof. Pitcher said that so far as Alberta was concerned, he could not see any need for an increase in price. Prices should go down rather than up.

SIX FLOATING MINES STILL MISSING.
Of the fourteen floating mines believed to have been lost off the entrance of Halifax harbor in 1914, a German submarine, eight have been picked up or otherwise accounted for. The last mine recovered was a "live" one, found off Sumbro Island by two fishermen. An officer from H.M.S. Docksyard was notified and notified to Banbury, where he removed the explosives. The six mines still unaccounted for are believed to have floated to midland or beyond.

NEW YORK STATE MOTOR ACCIDENTS.
Albany, N.Y.—There were a total of 38,612 automobile accidents in New York state cities in 1920, and in these 41 persons were killed and 13,781 injured, according to reports of city police departments.

ON MAY 16th

THIS $65.00 HOOVER ELECTRIC SUCTION SWEEPER

MISS GLADYS PLANT won the $200.00 Hoover Electric Washer from our March 31. She purchased a Hoover Sweeper from one of our sales boys.

WHO WILL WIN THIS COMPANION time, money and health over? Who will get the greatest labor saving for nothing? Who will have more leisure hours and an immaculate home?

HERE'S HOW TO WIN!

In our doorway or on our salaried floor we have a small new carpet of about 30 square feet. We clean this carpet every day with this Hoover and place the accumulated dirt and litter in a glass jar every day. On May 16th we will weigh the total dirt collected and the one who guesses correct or the nearest correct wins the Baby Hoover Electric Suction Sweeper Free.

If the next four weeks are extra muddy, there will be more dirt on this carpet, just the same as in any home. At our expense you will see that the sharp cutting sand and mud will make very little impression on this piece of cheap carpet when treated to the "moss-over" with a Hoover.

We are using a cheap carpet, as it will show more signs of wear, if any, from such a severe test as this.

Thousands of people will tramp on and wash their feet on this rug during this time. Watch the jar of dirt grow in our window. Come on the weight on May 16th.

Why We Give This $65.00 Cleaner Away FREE

We wish to interest hundreds of Edmonton folk in our easy purchase plan. Good careful economical women that do not realize that one cent's worth of electricity will thoroughly clean 600 square feet of carpet.

Or do not realize how many pounds of dirt get embedded in the fibre and nap of even a small rug, and too deep and stubborn for the ancient broom, or would shudder at a slight bit of visible dust on the floor, all unconscious of where it originated.

And Get Acquainted With the Hoover Electric Shop in Edmonton

INFORMATION ON HOW TO GUESS

- (1) With every purchase of $1.00 (One Dollar) or over at any time you will receive a game blank FREE.
- (2) You can hand in your guess any time before 8 p.m. May 16th.
- (3) Each guess must be on our own game blanks and complete details checked carefully.
- (4) In the event of two or more contestants guessing the correct or nearest correct amount, they agree to draw by ballot.
- (5) All contestants agree to all other rules of the contest and to abide by the decision of the game manager.
- (6) Geo. B. Cooper, Advertising Manager of the Journal will open and weigh the accumulated dirt on May 16th.
